

Round Turn and Two Half Hitches

Use:

This hitch is used to attach a rope to a tent peg, or a mooring bollard. It is also used to tie 'rope bridges' and 'flying foxes' to the pegs or anchor points.

The 'round turn' helps hold the rope tight while you tie the two half hitches. If the strain on the rope is quite high, you can make two round turns as this will help you hold the rope tight with one hand while tying the half hitches with the other.

This illustration shows the 'Round Turn and Two Half Hitches' used to tie a guy rope to a tent peg.
